Abide II

Jean Allen

At first reading, it sounds like Jesus is talking about a quid pro quo in today's Gospel. "If you do this THEN I will love you." That's not what he is saying. He didn't say, "then I will love you"; he said, "then you will abide in my love." It's not that if you keep his commandments then he will love you; it's that if you keep his commandments, you will be abiding, you will be dwelling in his love and not fading away or leaving his love. Jesus loves us. Period. No quid pro quo. We can't do anything to make him love us or love us more. "You did not choose me but I chose you." His love is a complete given.

Whether we reside in his love or not is often another matter. I spoke last week about how abide means to stay in the present moment but very often we are caught up in and chasing past wounds and guilt and future problems and possibilities. It is seriously difficult to love in the present moment if you are living in the past or in the future. Jesus also had to live within this principle. Jesus was always in the present moment, dwelling in his Father's love. He wasn't brooding about how those irritating and dangerous Pharisees kept trying to trap him nor was he living in fear and terror over the crucifixion he knew was coming. He was always abiding in the Father's love and therefore had love and compassion for every person he encountered in the moment. He didn't have a policy about how he was going to respond to the moment. He said, "I only do what I see the Father doing," not "what I saw the Father doing." Present moment abiding in his Father was crucial to his life, love and ministry. Jesus never preached what he didn't practice.

By choosing to stay in the present you are choosing to abide and to love.

It's simple – but not easy!

Come and embark on a wonderful adventure concerning Love and Respect in marriage. As you spend time viewing and discussing the video, you will be answering three major questions.

- Why do we negatively react to each other in marriage? This will be explained in what is called the Crazy Cycle.
- How do I best motivate my spouse The Energizing Cycle answers this question.
- What if my spouse does not respond to me? The Rewarded Cycle informs us what to do.

5 weeks of coming together and working on our marriages. The information we share can be used in all of our relationships. Please help us prepare for you and your spouse by registering here.

St Joseph the Worker Conference Annual Report for 2023 Saint Vincent de Paul, Vancouver Island

In 2023 our conference continued to serve our adopted families and those in need in the community. Here are some highlights of 2023 activities and outreach:

- Donated over $17 000 to the Social Concern foods program
- Sponsored the toiletry and sundry table at St Andrew's soup kitchen, purchasing a wide variety of essential items to support the homeless.
- Met and gave out numerous emergency food gift cards to families and individuals in need
- Assisted with the KOC 40 Cans for 40 Days food drive
- Held a parish food drive for World Day of the Poor in November and collected 330kg of food for the Social Concern pantry
- Assisted in the delivery of monthly food to a shut-in.
- Held a coffee house for seniors at St Andrew's manor
- Worked alongside the parish youth group to assist over 25 families in Rosalie's Village with Christmas presents

Along with our numerous 'adopted families', we assisted others in the community with numerous emergency needs like food, rental support, utilities, advocacy, and furniture.

Twinning initiatives:

Our conference sponsors two twinning initiatives abroad. In the last year we concluded our financial support to St. Joseph's Conference in Kerala, India and now have two in Colombia. In total $4 000 was sent to these conferences which allowed them to consistently provide food aid, help with housing, medical aid, and assistance for education. Holy Spirit Conference in Cucuta, Colombia continue their work in the poor areas of Cucuta, in particular Villa de la Paz with food, clothing, medicine and aiding people to help themselves through entrepreneur initiatives. Lastly, Immaculate Conference in Amalfi, Colombia have 20 monthly markets for those in need, subsidize transport to medical exams and to get medication, oversee 25 homes in the city for low income families with a focus on giving children from rural areas a chance to finish their education in the city. They also have a Vincentian spirituality program.

In closing, thank you to all St Joseph the Worker parishioners; your generosity is the reason we can continue our mission of charity. Along with continuing to support our charity work, please consider joining us! The more hands the better.

We feel truly blessed that we can continue the mission of Saint Vincent de Paul by finding and assisting those in need.

Blessings,

Stephanie Peters
